Jesus Humanity And The Trinity

"Jesus, Humanity, and the Trinity" is the prequel to Tanner's more elaborate "Christ the Key," although no less strenuous. In this volume, she is simply laying the groundwork for the purpose of establishing a broad systematic vision, which sets her up for later considerations of its doctrinal and ethical implications in "Christ the Key."

Jesus, Humanity and the Trinity by Kathryn Tanner

Jesus Humanity and the Trinity Book Description : Tanner offers not a repetition of doctrines but a creative synthesis of key Christian principles - especially the transcendence and gift-giving of God - and contemporary experience. What emerges is a profound yet precise vision of creation, God's life, and our participation in it.

God took on ONE human nature that was the same human nature of every human. Jesus became sin for us, without sinning to deliver us and our nature from sin. The three qualities of God: God is distinct – Father, Son and Holy Spirit; God is equal – No one is above the other. No specific roles. God is Unity – Act as one. Can't break them apart. God made marriage and love to reflect His relationship in The Trinity.

The Most Holy Trinity is the central and most profound mystery of the Christian faith and life. While we human beings can grasp certain aspects of this ultimate truth about God, precisely as a mystery, a full understanding is beyond our limited human comprehension. Yet, this deep mystery of God's inner life and essence is [...]
